

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

I'd like to think that FM wasn't going to get any more corporate and bland than it already is. I don't want to see the few remaining interesting stations closed because of overwhelming pressure to sell up and fade away. Too few people already control our media.
